

THERE'S SOMETHING

BEAUTIFUL

ABOUT A SMALL TOWN.

We're not just any small town. We're the most beautiful small town in America, according to Rand McNally and USA Today. Whatever you need to get away from, come to Bardstown, KY - the small town with big escapes.

SOMETHING UNFORGETTABLE

Whether it's Old Bardstown Village, the Civil War Museum, My Old Kentucky Dinner Train, or the Kentucky Railway Museum, history can be rediscovered on every corner in Kentucky's second oldest town.

SOMETHING HARMONIOUS

Visit Federal Hill, the home that inspired America's first great songwriter to compose Kentucky's state song, "My Old Kentucky Home." While you're there, see Kentucky's longest-running outdoor musical, "The Stephen Foster Story."

SOMETHING DECADENT

In the Bourbon Capital of the World,[®] you can tour one or all seven distilleries, earn a degree from Kentucky Bourbon University, and dine on bourbon-inspired dishes such as Bourbon Walnut Chicken and Mango-Bourbon Pork Chops.

SOMETHING UPLIFTING

Stand amazed in the presence of Bardstown's religious heritage at the Abbey of Gethsemani, Basilica of St. Joseph Proto-Cathedral, Holy Land Tours, and Sisters of Charity of Nazareth.
